G4G ACHIEVING BEYOND SCHOOL ATTENDANCE AND RETENTION

Education is said to be the only meal ticket we have in life so as to stand out. Well, this isn't very convincing to some communities especially in the Northern part of Nigeria where your gender determines whether or not you go to school. Every child deserves to be treated well irrespective of their gender. The United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF) in collaboration with Life Helpers Initiative has embarked on an innovative strategy to address the issue of low girl child enrolment and retention in schools in Zamfara State, Nigeria. Girls Education Program is an initiative of UNICEF with international, national and state wide supports to enhance girl's education with achievable objectives, innovative strategies and methodologies. Girls4Girls is one of the strategies to enhance girls' ability to participate in their education, generate support for the girls, foster common bonds among the girls and enhance their learning. Its uniqueness is that it is in-school support and well linked to the Mothers' Association who are the group of mothers in each community.

We are also very much aware of the possibilities; very persuaded that with the necessary conditions girls can emerge from the woods of education depravity, become better and set to meet the challenges of their immediate future. Following the enrolment of girls into the G4G Groups, 5 days Leadership Training was held for the student group leaders during which health related topics, key basic Leadership Skills and other Life Skills were impacted to the young girls. One key activity was the training of the girls on Vocational Skills, which could serve as an impetus for the young fertile minds to be self-sufficient.

NASARA SHITTU

Nasara Shittu a 13 years old from Ummu Hattu Mumini Jangeru Shinkafi LGA, took hold of the knowledge on bead making within a short period of time and being determined was able to hand make necklaces with beads and earrings from the materials gotten at the training.

Even though Hauwa'u Abdullahi is a 12-year-old schooling at Badamo Model Primary School Jangeru, Shinkafi LGA, she took up the challenge of teaching other girls and intends to take advantage of the festive period to sell her bead work.

Hauwa'u said “I bought stones for the bead work myself through the support I got from my parents but kept the strings from the training to make these colorful beads which I enjoy making. I'm happy I know something else aside assisting with house chores and learning ABC” she concluded.

HAUWA'U ABDULLAHI

Zaraú Basiru a 15-year-old resident of same community as Hauwaú Abdullahi from Ummu Hattu Mumini IQS acquired the mastery of slippers making at the training, she determined that with the knowledge gotten she won't walk bare footed to school again. “I thank Allah for the G4G Project” said Zarau.
