

LifeHelpers

Group Saving and Loan Association (GSLA)

✱ Distribution of GSLA Member by Age-Group, Zamfara States

Amidst the backdrop of financial uncertainty, a glimmer of hope emerges as beneficiaries revel in the strides of their savings journey. With each milestone achieved, a wave of joy washes over them, bolstering their confidence and resolve.

Their steadfast commitment to building a brighter future is rewarded with tangible progress, fueling their enthusiasm to continue on this path of financial empowerment.

Malama Halima a beneficiary after shareout in the market.

LifeHelpers

Aliyu a beneficiary and a farmer after shareout

- Amidst the warm glow of lantern light, members of the GSLA group gathered eagerly in BUI for their long-awaited share-out meeting. Excitement crackled in the air as each participant anticipated the culmination of their collective efforts.

* GSLA Trained and commence savings as at March 2024, Zamfara State.

LifeHelpers

GSLA facilitator in Anka
taking Records

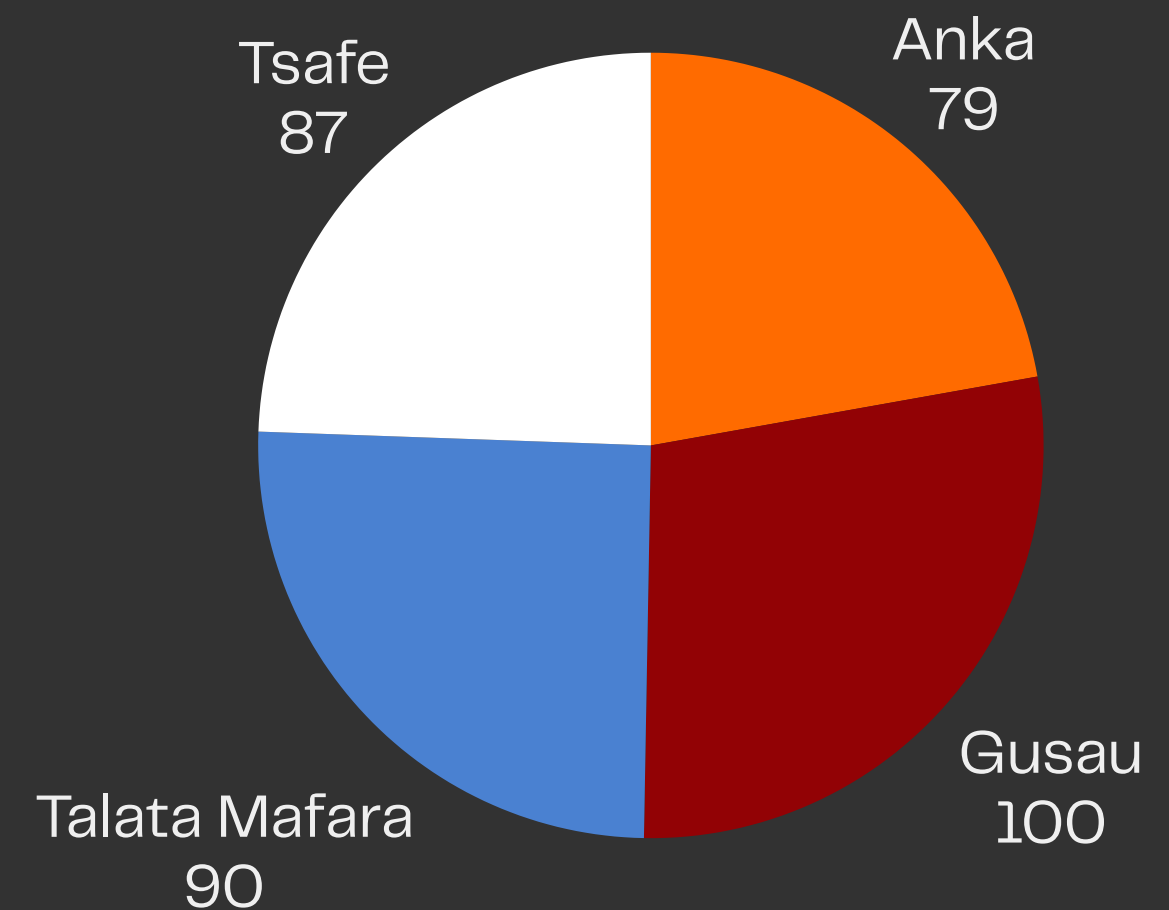

Every week, a dedicated group gathers for their scheduled meeting and training session on the art of saving. Led by experienced financial advisors, they delve into the intricacies of budgeting, investment strategies, and the importance of setting aside funds for the future. Through engaging discussions and practical exercises, participants learn valuable skills to secure their financial well-being.

* Total GSIA members Per LGAs, Zamfara

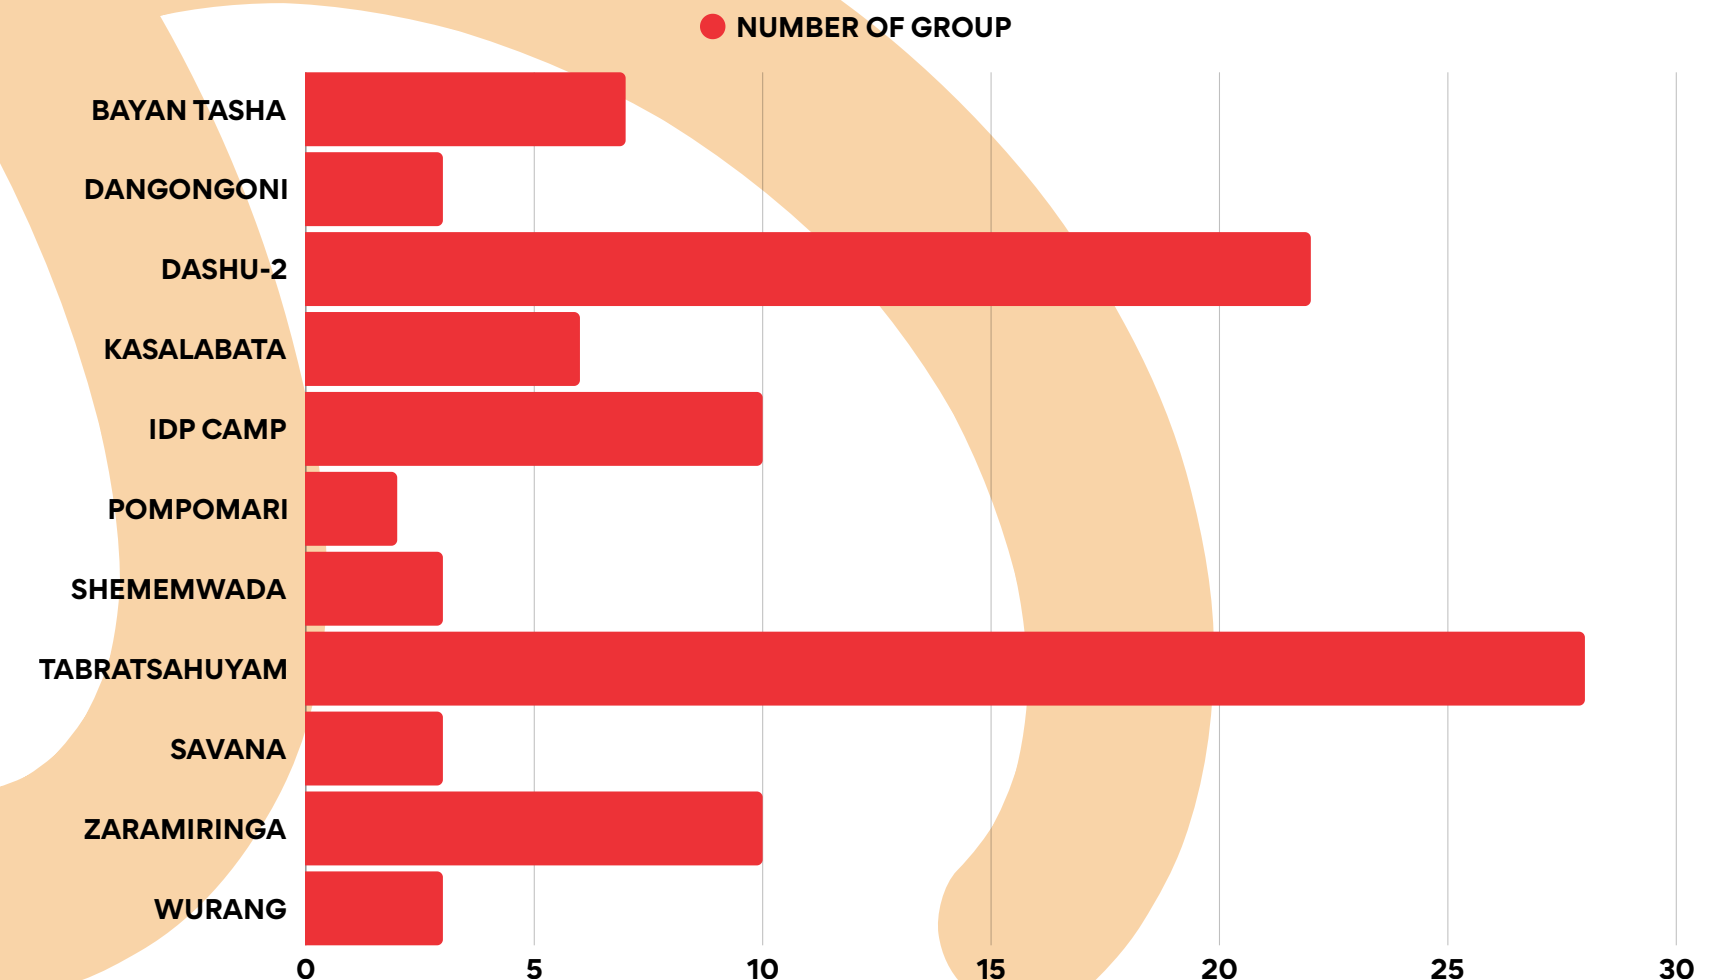

- Anka
- Gusau
- Talata Mafara
- Tsafe

Beneficiaries checking their savings during meeting

TOTAL NUMBER OF GSLA GROUP FORMED IN 11 COMMUNITIES IN BIU

As the Life Helpers staff facilitated the share-out session, a palpable sense of anticipation filled the air. Among the beneficiaries stood a young woman, her eyes reflecting a mixture of hope and determination. This moment wasn't just about receiving financial support; it symbolized empowerment, resilience, and the promise of a brighter future. With each handshake and congratulatory nod exchanged, the bond between the Life Helpers team and the beneficiaries grew stronger, marking another chapter in their journey towards self-sufficiency and prosperity.

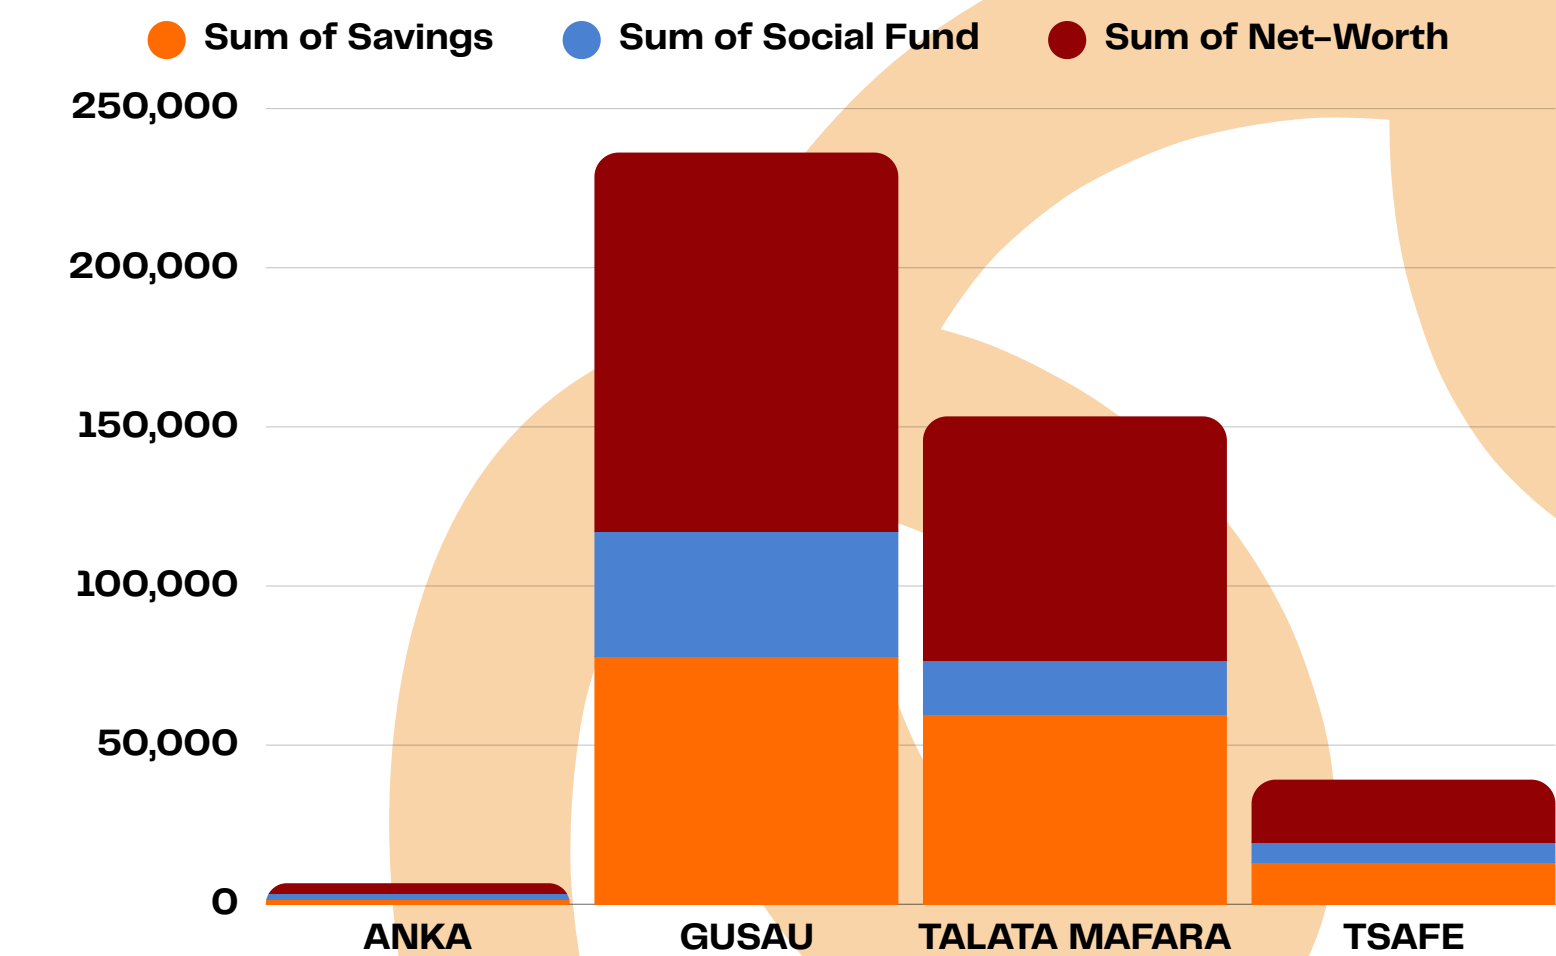

A photograph of an elderly man, Baba Amina, sitting on a white cloth on the ground. He is wearing a light-colored, patterned traditional robe and a white headwrap. He has a joyful expression, with his mouth open as if speaking or laughing. Around him are various items, including several blue and black plastic bags, some of which appear to contain small, round objects like beads or seeds. There are also some small, colorful packets and a few loose items scattered on the cloth. In the background, there are more bags and a large, dark, cylindrical object, possibly a drum or a large pot. The ground is dry and dusty. The overall scene suggests a market or a place where he is selling or displaying his goods.

LifeHelpers

Baba Amina a beneficairy, starting a business after recieving his savings.

As the program staff gathered for their first meeting of the year, anticipation hung thick in the air. Among the agenda items, none garnered as much excitement as the opening of the savings box—a tradition marking the culmination of a year's worth of diligent saving by the participants. With eager hands, the staff unlocked the box, revealing a trove of carefully labeled envelopes containing the fruits of the participants' labor. Each envelope represented a story of determination and perseverance, a testament to the transformative power of disciplined saving. With smiles of pride, the staff counted and recorded the contents, ready to celebrate the tangible progress made by those they served.

✱ Total Savings by LGAs, Zamfara State

A group of approximately ten women are gathered outdoors in a rural setting, likely a village square or courtyard. They are seated on the ground or on low stools, arranged in a circle around a small table. The women are wearing various colored headscarves and traditional clothing. One woman in the foreground is wearing a bright pink shirt with the word 'JUSAM' and the number '00' on the back. Another woman is wearing a blue headscarf and a patterned dress. The background shows a dirt path, a large tree, and a building with a thatched roof. The overall atmosphere is one of a community meeting or a group activity.

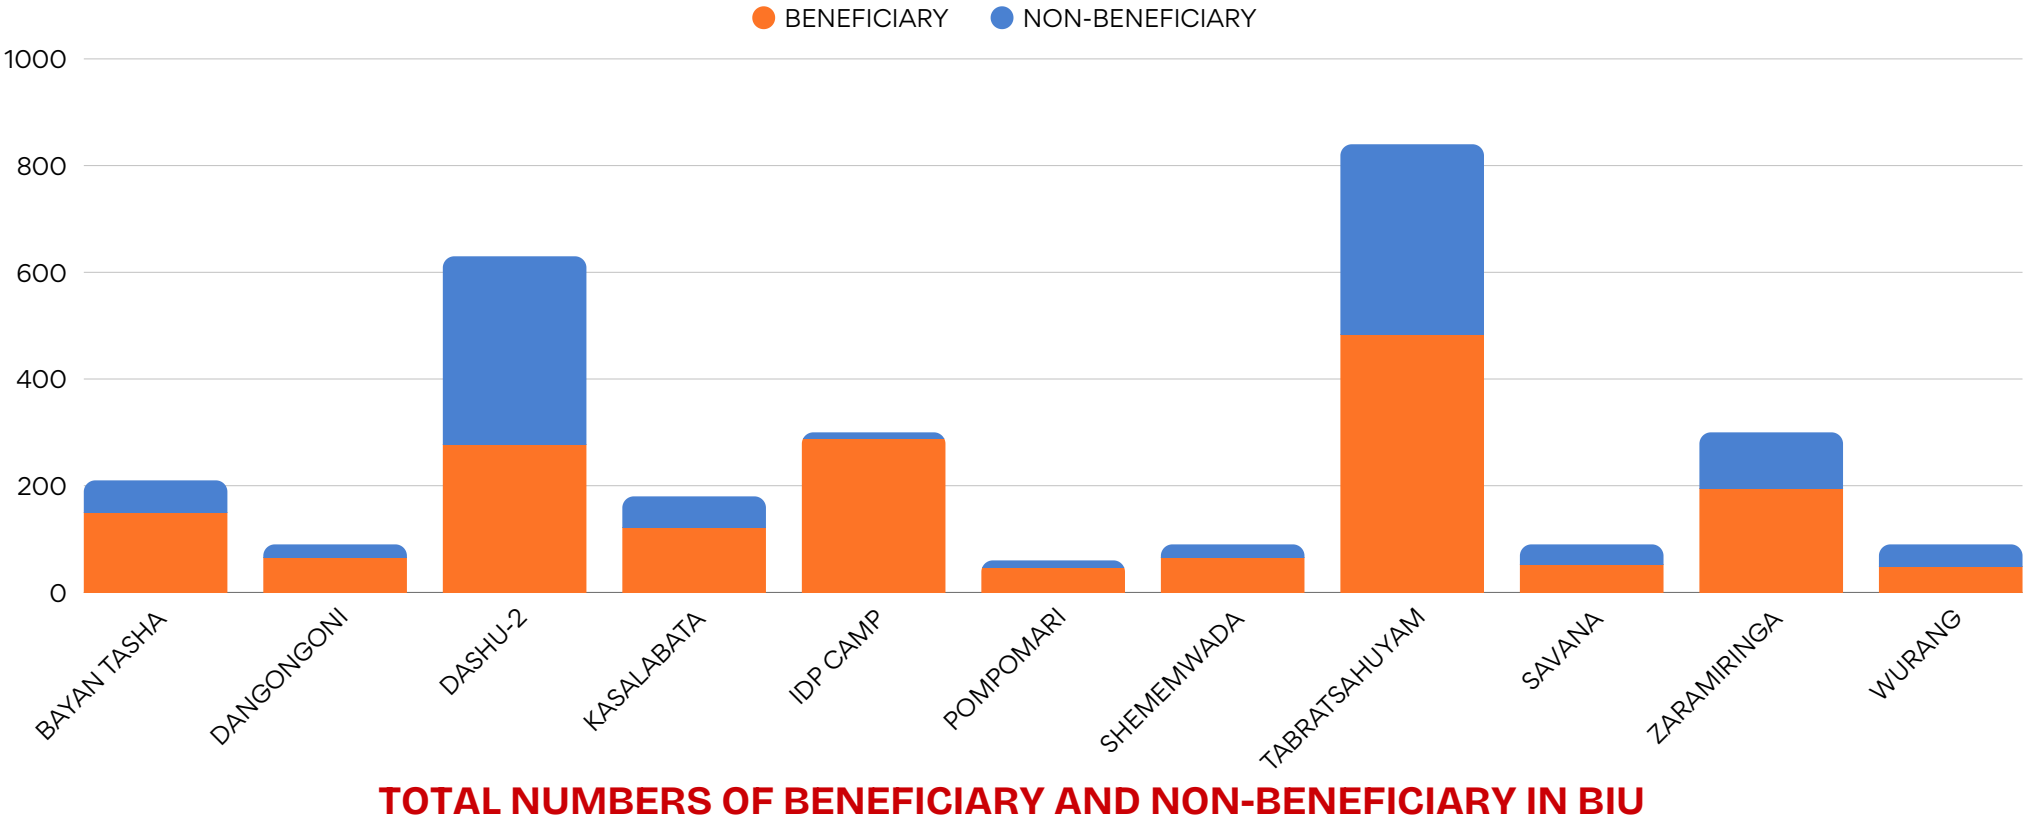

LifeHelpers

Beneficiaries checking their
savings during meeting

During a five-day training and orientation session, the GSLA group in Anka delved deep into the intricacies of financial empowerment. Led by seasoned mentors, participants eagerly absorbed knowledge on budgeting, saving strategies, and prudent investment practices. Through interactive workshops and insightful discussions, they honed their financial management skills, laying a sturdy foundation for their economic independence.

Encouraged by their progress and newfound understanding, the GSLA members left the training with a renewed sense of purpose, ready to implement their learnings and embark on a journey towards a brighter financial future.

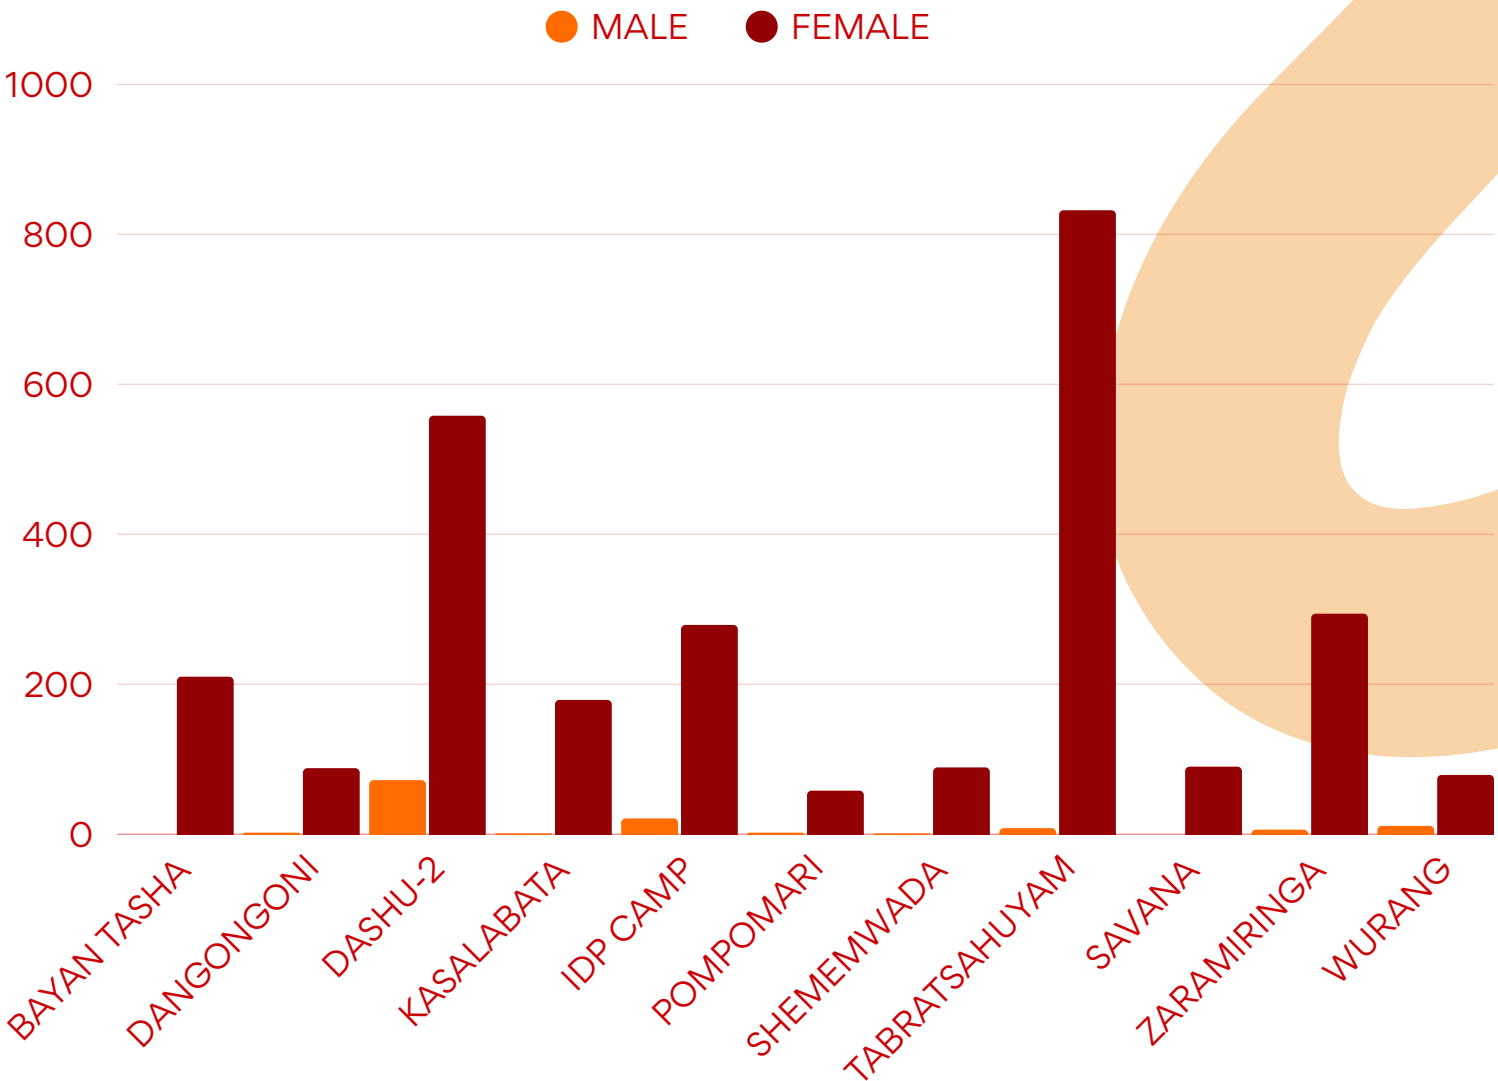

LifeHelpers

GSLA Sharing Out
Process

As the year drew to a close, the Buriya community gathered for their annual GSLA meeting, a symbol of unity and progress for both men and women alike. Amidst the flickering lanterns and murmurs of anticipation, members shared tales of resilience and growth, reflecting on their collective journey towards financial empowerment.

TOTAL NUMBER OF MALE AND FEMALE MEMBERS IN BIU

GSLA - Alheri Daga Allah
Group at 5 days training

As the GSLA share-out process unfolded with Life Helpers Staff, anticipation filled the air, mingling with a palpable sense of empowerment. Each participant, whether from Yobe State, Zamfara, or BUI, stood poised to receive their share, a testament to their commitment to financial resilience. With smiles of gratitude, they embraced their newfound agency, transforming the once-daunting prospect of financial management into an empowering journey. In this moment, as they received their portion, they also received a renewed sense of confidence in their ability to navigate life's uncertainties.

● Male ● Female

TOTAL NUMBER OF ENROLLMENT IN YOBE

A group of community leaders, including men and women in traditional attire, are seated outdoors under a large tree, engaged in a meeting. A man in a white shirt is seated at a small table, possibly acting as a facilitator. The setting is a dirt area with a yellow building in the background.

Meeting with some of the community leaders introducing the project and its benefits to women in the communities

- In the bustling community of BUI, the GSLA beneficiaries have instituted a unique savings system. Each beneficiary contributes diligently to their communal savings box, safeguarded by three sturdy locks, each entrusted to a different keyholder.

With unwavering trust and cooperation, these keyholders ensure the security of the savings, symbolizing the collective commitment to financial stability and empowerment. As the savings grow steadily within the protective confines of the box, so too does the sense of unity and resilience among the GSLA participants in BUI.

Group Saving and Loan Association (GSLA)

